

CV Irena Nančovska Šerbec

Home page: <http://skala.pef.uni-lj.si/irena/>

E-mail: irena.nancovska@pef.uni-lj.si

Irena Nančovska Šerbec is assistant professor at Faculty of Education University of Ljubljana. She finished her graduate and postgraduate studies at the Faculty of Computer and Information Science, University of Ljubljana, Slovenia. She got her Ph.D. degree from the field of electrical engineering at the Faculty of Electrical Engineering, University of Ljubljana. Her fields of research are modelling in the education (with emphasis on machine learning modelling), ICT in education, teaching programming, system identification and time series regression. In the past she participated in many projects from the field of meteorology; national projects on including ICT into teaching and learning, EU and bilateral projects. Recently she is involved in two EU projects: ESPANT and SELEAG.